

Thanks to its resistance and its manufacture in high quality steel, you can also use it with other elements that facilitate training in suspension. You can even use it on the wall without the need for a rack or a multi-station machine.

Description

Why you should buy the Titanium Strength Olympic Multi Grip Bar ?

When we are buying elements and accessories to perform dominoes and suspension exercises, quality and resistance should be the fundamental factors that help you distinguish between one bar and another.

And the Titanium Strength Olympic Multi Grip Bar gives you the best guarantee in this respect. Thanks to its all-welded construction of solid, durable steel, you'll be able to perform your pull-ups and exercises safely, and even more so if you incorporate it into a Titanium Strength Olympic rack.

This bar is specially designed to withstand regular and super-intensive use and has a price/performance ratio that is among the best on the market.

Thanks to its 4 grip positions you can train chest, shoulders and triceps easily, comfortably and safely.

What are you waiting for to start making dominoes like a pro?
