Short Description

The Titanium X Line is as serious as heavy duty fitness equipment gets.

Built for a lifetime of abuse in Commercial Gyms, Crossfit Centers or Home Gyms.

With maximum loads of 800 lbs this equipment is made for professional bodybuilders and some serious lifters.

Whether utilized for a garage gym or the elite level, the Titanium Strength Commercial Line will be the foundation of any power athlete's or bodybuilders training needs.

Description

Why should you buy the Titanium Strength RH80 Commercial HD Half Rack - X Line?

The Titanium Strength Heavy Duty Half Rack is the space-saving powerhouse which is extremely suitable for commercial use.

High stability due to the double vertical and horizontal attachment of the uprights.

Suitable for commercial use

The Titanium Strength RH80 Half Rack is also suitable for commercial use due to the maximum load of 998lb. Good quality and stability are very desirable, the Half Rack meets all requirements. The extremely stable and strong heavy duty steel frame ensures that the rack is maximum loadable to a whopping 998lb and does not succumb even under the heaviest load.

Magnetic J-Hooks and Spotters

The red spotters and J-hooks are equipped with nylon inserts, are functionally adjustable in height and guarantee safety and stability. The J-hooks and spotters contain a patented magnetic charge that keeps them stuck tightly along the uprights. This unique feature allows you to rely on Pivot as your training partner.

Complete your rack

The basis is already very strong, but Titanium Strength goes even further and offers the total solution for the all-in-1 rack and thus guarantees the most complete workout possible. Take for example the dip handle for triceps, Lat and Row to add a whole new range of exercises, the battle rope and suspension trainer hook for functionality and the T-bar for shoulders, back and core stability.

Plate Storage

The plate storage, for storing all your Olympic discs, is included and ensures that your gym looks professional.
