Short Description

The Titanium X Line is as serious as heavy duty fitness equipment gets.

Built for a lifetime of abuse in Commercial Gyms, Crossfit Centers or Home Gyms, the 0,11" thick, 2,75" x 2,75" can take anything. Literally.

With maximum loads of up to 1102,31 lbs this equipment is made for professional bodybuilders and some serious lifters.

Whether utilized for a garage gym or the elite level, the Titanium Strength Commercial Line will be the foundation of any power athlete's or bodybuilders training needs.

Description

Why you should buy the Titanium Strength RA20 Commercial Athletic Combo Rack - X Line?

Maximize the training space with a single rack configuration that offers two highly demanding power stations and ample storage space for weight plates.

Combine with other racks and accessories to create an exercise area that fits your athletes. Maximum versatility and minimum number of frame holes offering an orderly and attractive appearance.

Another good point of this 2-people weight rack is that it includes j-hooks and magnetic spotters that give extra safety in case of an accident or fall from the bar.

What's more, all the machines in the Titanium Strength commercial line include this patented system - a complete workout on one machine for two people at the same time!

The plates and storage bar are included, of course. As optional accessories, you can include dip handle, landmine/torsonator and battle rope anchor.

Do you want a professional gym and have little space?

Stop thinking and buy your Titanium Strength Athletic combo rack now.
